Recap: Chapter 13

1

Templates Save Setup Time

Layout, styles, and structure are ready before you type a word.

2

Built-in and Online Both Work

File → New covers both, right from the same screen.

3

Always Save As First

Protect the original template by saving your copy under a new name.

4

Your Own Templates Are Reusable

Save As Word Template (.dotx) to build your own starting points.

Today's Objectives

1

Run a Spelling & Grammar Check

Catch most errors in a document with one shortcut.

2

Understand the Underlines

Know what red and blue marks mean before you fix them.

3

Use the Editor Pane

See a full summary of writing suggestions in one place.

4

Use AutoCorrect & Thesaurus

Let Word fix typos automatically, and find better word choices.

Spelling & Grammar Check

1

Review Tab → Spelling & Grammar

This runs a full check of the document. It stops at each possible error.

2

Accept or Ignore Suggestions

Choose the correct spelling, or click Ignore if Word is wrong.

3

F7 Shortcut

Press F7 to start a spelling and grammar check instantly.

4

It's Not Always Right

Word can miss real errors and flag correct text. Always read carefully too.

Understanding the Underlines

1

Red Wavy Underline

This marks a possible spelling mistake, or a word Word doesn't recognize.

2

Blue Double Underline

This marks a possible grammar or style issue, like a subject-verb mismatch.

3

Right-Click for Suggestions

Right-click any underlined word to see Word's suggested fixes.

4

Underlines Don't Print

These marks are only visible on screen. They never appear on a printed page.

The Editor Pane

1

Home Tab → Editor

This opens a full summary of spelling, grammar, and writing suggestions.

2

Overall Score

It shows a document score based on how many issues remain.

3

Clarity & Conciseness Tips

It suggests ways to simplify long or wordy sentences.

4

Click to Jump

Click any suggestion in the pane to jump straight to that spot.

AutoCorrect & Thesaurus

1

What AutoCorrect Does

It fixes common typos automatically as you type, like “teh” becoming “the.”

2

Undo an AutoCorrect

Press Ctrl+Z right after a correction to undo just that change.

3

The Thesaurus

Right-click a word → Synonyms to find a better word choice instantly.

4

Review Editor Options

File → Options → Proofing lets you turn AutoCorrect rules on or off.

PRACTICE

Fix a Messy Paragraph

1

Type the Sentence

Type this sentence exactly, mistakes included: “Their are three student who forgot too submit thier assignment.”

2

Run the Check

Press F7 to start Spelling & Grammar check.

3

Fix Each Flag

Accept Word’s correct suggestions, one at a time.

4

Compare the Result

Read the corrected sentence aloud. It should now make full sense.

PRACTICE

Spot the Underlines

1

Type a New Sentence

Type: “He dont know the answer, so he ask his freind for help.”

2

Find the Red Marks

Right-click each red-underlined word. Choose the correct spelling.

3

Find the Blue Marks

Right-click the blue-underlined phrase. Choose the grammar fix.

4

Recheck the Sentence

Confirm no underlines remain anywhere in the sentence.

Wrap-Up

Key Takeaways

1

F7 Checks the Whole Document

One shortcut catches most spelling and grammar issues.

2

Red Means Spelling, Blue Means Grammar

The underline color tells you what kind of issue it is.

3

The Editor Pane Sees the Bigger Picture

It scores your whole document, not just one error at a time.

4

Proofing Tools Help, But Don't Replace You

Always give your document one final read yourself.
